CHICAGO IN TEARS.

Today the world's fair will be closed. The grandest spectacle ever seen by mortal eyes will be dismantled and the ineffable glory of Chicago will be engrossed upon the imperishable scroll of istory to remain there for all time as the record of the greatest triumph of nineteen centuries of civilized progress in art science and kindred achievements. It were fitting that such a sublime triumph should culminate amid the joyous plaudits and loud acclaim of a glad and exuberant people; but the unfeeling hand of cruel fate has ordained that it shall be crowned with ismentations and tears. The day set apart for a universal tribute to the Great Discoverer which should end the Columbian Exposition in a burst of glory has been consecrated to a day of mourning and grief. The White City will wear habiliments of woe today. Instead of the pump and circumstance of glad demonstration the somber pall of the tragedy which shocked the world last Saturday night will hang gloomily over the palaces of that unapproachable farryland. The flage will hang at half must. The bells will toll a requiem. The music will be a dirge. The shouts of acciains will be sobe of sorrow. The hand of fate, mailed and terribly swift, has transformed the house of feasting and joy to a house of morning and sorrow. The world pauses for the day to sympathize with Chicago in its be-

ELLIS' MEAN TRICK.

Atturney General Ellis has loaned sedings against Mayor Pingree in the malet of an exciting municipal campaign. The charges preferred set forth that Mayor Pingree and the common council of Detroit have conspired to defraud the city by appropriating and using the funds of the city for making so-called junketing trips. The legality of such proceedings by municipal officers has long been a subject over which opinion has been and still is divided. The practice of "junk-ting" is well-nigh universal and extends from congress to the most unemportant legislative and exe entive bodies. The cause for a judicial inquiry into the right and authority for using public moneys for such purposes is a continued and continuing one. Therefore the present precipitate action of Attorney General Ellie is a cunningly devised scheme to weaken Mayor Pingree's canvass for re-election. It will fall far short of its intended effect. Nobesty will take the slightest interest in it except possibly the pot-house claequers who train in the democrat oppoeition to Pingree. Their fustian will will add to father than detract from Pingree's unsullied reputation for hog-

THREATENING LENATICS.

Further details of the assessination of Mayor Harrison develop the fact that the assault had made numerous threats to do just what he ultimately did. The man - had norsed for months the jesano delusion that he could elevate the errest railroad tracks at grade crossings and thereby prevent the innumerable fatal occidents at those points. Unifer this delusion he had inspired himself with the belief, wholly groundloss that the mayor had promised to appears him corporation counsel, in which office he could carry out his cherished ambition. It is probable the mayor never mentioned the subject of appointment to his victim. To others, however, he had complained butterly and made dire threats to kill the mayor for "betraying" his confidence in this requed. His threats were treated as the idle experings of an excitable enthusiast. Therein was the indifference to a lunathe excines which cost the mayor his life It is too late now to say what should have been done. The lesson, however, abouted not be lost. The man that threatens lookly injury to another for cause or no twuse is a dangerous must to be at large. Such a man, any where and everywhere, should be placed nader continued replemage to the and that homicidal mania should not breed justif later actual muster. Had the throats of Possibergest been known to the mapre and his seconds, the awful tragner in the mayor's mansion might have been averted.

Beary Clear expresses great satisfaction that the after question has arrived tird. He thinks that it is impossible to thus of enciety.

ve retimute the benefits to hav from a peerly determination of the terre. The country is in a position new to product itself from foliars monetary cornessured that we will hereafter resleets all our obligations in gold or its equivalent, thereby strengthening our credit abroad so that it will not be difficult to secure loans when we require temporary relief. If Mr. Clean is wholly sound in his reasoning heretofore, we shall never need to borrow to relieve a financial atringency, for according to his propheunalterably fixed, we shall never be hard pressed by low tinancial resources. He sees in the present situation the promise that our ability to pay in gold will never be doubted by an undue admixture of silver. What he means by this is not clear. The administration and democrat party are pledged to enlarge the use of silver. That pledge must be redeemed or both will be repudiated by the people. We must have a liberal extension of the laws for utilizing the white Letal. We must have a silver dollar worth one undred cents and of coequal and interchangeable value with gold. The question of standard and ratio is material and it must be adjusted so as to

Ir is probable that the common council will take official notice of the tragic death of the mayor of Chicago. The deplorable event is more than a local calamity. It strikes home to the heart of every American. The council would not violate the canons of propriety were it to meet tonight, pass resolutions of condolence and then adjourn. The flag on the city hall should be displayed at half-mast until after the obsequies of the dead mayor of Chicago have been

SENATOR VOORBEES will move a vote on the repeal bill today. This is quite positive assurance that he will do no such thing. The tall Indianian has been a picturesque prevaricator for more than two months, and he would not smirch his reputation at this fate day by moving a vote on the repeal bill until satisfied that it was the very last thing he could do. The vote on the repeal bill will come in the regular order. No extraordinary move will be made by Voorhees to secure a vote. He is incapable of doing anything extraordinary.

LITTLE LAURA JANE HEPNER, & Pennsylvania maid, yearned to marry Nat Everly, and a stern papa interfered. Then the little maiden had papa arrested by the Anti-Cruelty society, and he was not released until he gave his consent to the marriage. Just what methods Laura Jane will use when she wishes a divorce are unknown: but it is safe to assert that they will be ingenious.

Injured by An Explosion.

Walter Johnson, employed in the office of the Bissell Carpet Sweeper factory, was seriously injured by an explosion of gun powder Friday evening. He was preparing a quantity of shells for a day's hunt when in some manner the powder ignited and an explosion followed. One eye was injured and his face was badly burned.

! Headache and Dyspepsia. William E. Rockwell, No. 512 West

57th street, New York, says:
"I have been a martyr to bilious head ache and dyspepsia. Any indiscretion in diet, overfatigue or cold brings on a fit of indigestion, followed by a headache lasting two or three days at a time. I think I must have tried over twenty different remedies, which were recommended as certain cures by loving friends, but it was no use. At last I thought I would take a simple course of purgation with Brandreth's Pills. For the first week I took two pills every night, then one pill for thirty nights; in that time I gained three pounds in weight, and never have had an ache or a pain since." Discuse in one part of the body will eventually fill the whole body with disease. Every year or two some part of the system grows weak and begins to decay. Such part should be removed at once, and new matter be allowed to take its place. There's no need of cut-ting it out with a surgeon's scalpel. Purge away the old, discased and worn-out parts with Brandreth's Pills.

Try as we may, we cannot disguise the fact that winter will soon be with us, and with its coming a good pair of shoes is an absolute necessity. Where will you get them? Well, if you only inspect O'Hara's new stock you surely will buy them there. In spite of the fact that other dealers are making fractic effect of other dealers are making frantic efforts to attract trade, O'Hara's are doing a steady business. Why? Because they are selling the neatest styles, best fitting, easiest feeling and longest wearing shoes at prices to suit the purchaser. If you want a pair of shoes or rubbers, go to O'Hara's, 72 Canal Street.
